Men have been looking so hard at the great fish
that they have failed to see the great God.

A dramatic sunset scene over the ocean. The sky is filled with dark, heavy clouds, and the sun is low on the horizon, creating a bright, golden glow. A sailboat with its sails up is on the right side of the frame. In the middle of the water, a person is seen in a small, precarious position, possibly struggling or in a small boat. The water is dark and choppy.

Jonah 4:1-5

But to Jonah this seemed very wrong, and he became angry. <sup>2</sup> He prayed to the LORD, “Isn’t this what I said, LORD, when I was still at home? That is what I tried to forestall by fleeing to Tarshish. I knew that you are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abounding in love, a God who relents from sending calamity.

Jonah 4:1-5

<sup>3</sup> Now, LORD, take away my life, for it is better for me to die than to live.” <sup>4</sup> But the LORD replied, “Is it right for you to be angry?” <sup>5</sup> Jonah had gone out and sat down at a place east of the city. There he made himself a shelter, sat in its shade and waited to see what would happen to the city.

Jonah 1:8-9

<sup>8</sup> Then the sailors said to Jonah, “Tell us on whose account this evil has come upon us. What is your occupation? And where do you come from? What is your country? And of what people are you?” <sup>9</sup> And he said to them, “I am a Hebrew, and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land.”

A close-up, high-resolution photograph of a person's face, focusing on their eyes. The person has dark, expressive eyes. In the reflection of the eyes, a small, detailed scene is visible, showing a group of people in a community setting, possibly a village or a town square, with traditional architecture and lush greenery. The lighting is soft and natural, highlighting the texture of the skin and the intensity of the gaze.

Jonah 4:6-9

<sup>6</sup> Now the Lord God appointed a plant and made it come up over Jonah, that it might be a shade over his head, to save him from his discomfort. So Jonah was exceedingly glad because of the plant. <sup>7</sup> But when dawn came up the next day, God appointed a worm that attacked the plant, so that it withered.

Jonah 4:6-9

<sup>8</sup> When the sun rose, God appointed a scorching east wind, and the sun beat down on the head of Jonah so that he was faint. And he asked that he might die and said, “It is better for me to die than to live.” <sup>9</sup> But God said to Jonah, “Is it right for you to be angry about the plant?” “It is,” he said. “And I’m so angry I wish I were dead.”
