Restoring Relationships

A wooden chair stands in a dark, industrial setting. A spotlight illuminates a patch of the floor in the background. A chain lies on the floor in the foreground. The scene is dimly lit, with light rays visible through the air.

The most painful goodbyes are the ones never said and never explained.

1 John 3

11 For this is the message that you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another. 12 We should not be like Cain, who was of the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own deeds were evil and his brother's righteous. 13 Do not be surprised, brothers, that the world hates you. 14 We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. Whoever does not love abides in death.

A landscape photograph showing a vast, golden-brown field in the foreground, likely a harvested crop field. In the background, there is a line of trees and a forested hill under a dark, starry night sky. The horizon is visible with some distant hills.

1 John 3

15 Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

16 By this we know love, that He laid down His life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers.

A large, dark wooden cross stands prominently on a rocky, silhouetted peak. The cross is supported by several thick chains or ropes that extend down the slope. The background is a dramatic sky at sunset or sunrise, with a gradient from deep blue at the top to a bright orange glow near the horizon. In the distance, layers of misty, rolling hills are visible. The overall mood is contemplative and spiritual.

Genesis 4

3 In the course of time Cain brought to the Lord an offering of the fruit of the ground, 4 and Abel also brought of the firstborn of his flock and of their fat portions. And the Lord had regard for Abel and his offering, 5 but for Cain and his offering he had no regard. So Cain was very angry, and his face fell.

Genesis 4

The Lord said to Cain, “Why are you angry, and why has your face fallen? 7 If you do well, will you not be accepted? And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door. Its desire is contrary to you, but you must rule over it.”

8 Cain spoke to Abel his brother. And when they were in the field, Cain rose up against his brother Abel and killed him.

Dear Lord Jesus,

I know that I have sinned against You.

I am so sorry for the things I have done wrong.

Please forgive me.

I believe You died for my sins and rose from the dead.

I now turn from my sins and invite You to come into my heart and life. I want to trust and follow You as my Lord and Saviour.

In Jesus Name, Amen
